Introduction

Keeley-Teton Advisors LLC (“Keeley-Teton”) is an investment adviser registered with the U. S. Securities and Exchange Commission. Brokerage and investment advisory services and fees differ, and it is important for you to understand these differences. Free and simple tools are available to research firms and financial professionals at Investor.gov/CRS, which also provides educational materials about broker-dealers, investment advisers and investing.

What investment services and advice can you provide me?

Relationships and Services

Description of Services: For our retail investors, Keeley-Teton generally offers discretionary investment advisory services. Client assets are managed through separately managed accounts (“SMAs”), a private client wealth management group and mutual funds. Keeley-Teton principally invests in U.S. equity, fixed income and other assets such as mutual funds and exchange traded funds. Keeley-Teton generally allows SMA clients to impose restrictions on our investments and trading ability. Keeley-Teton has investment advisory agreements with its clients, which means Keeley-Teton makes decisions as to which securities to purchase and sell within your account. In cases where Keeley-Teton provides model delivery, clients are responsible for making their own trading decisions.

Monitoring: As part of our standard service, Keeley-Teton reviews client portfolios to confirm that they are following their investment strategy and any imposing limitations. Keeley-Teton also conducts limited reviews when requested by a certain account or outside factors. Monitoring is provided by our investment staff, operations and compliance.

Requirements to open and maintain an account: All SMA clients execute an investment advisory agreement with Keeley-Teton upon opening an account and the account minimum is $1 million. Investment in mutual funds that are managed by Keeley-Teton is $2,500 for Class A and $1.0 million for Class I. Additional information may be found on our Form ADV Part 2A available on keeleyteton.com.

Conversation Starters:

- Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Why or why not?
- “How will you choose investments to recommend to me?”
- “What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?”

What fees will I pay?

Fees, Costs, Conflicts and Standard of Conduct

Principal Fees and Costs: Keeley-Teton is compensated for its investment advisory services provided to clients as a percentage of assets under management (charged quarterly). Keeley-Teton does not charge performance-based fees of any kind. Clients should be aware that Keeley-Teton has a financial incentive to increase its profitability such as to invest in securities rather than hold cash. Fees paid to Keeley-Teton for its investment advisory services are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged to clients’ accounts and investments such as brokerage, custodial, trading, cost of investments and related fees.

Additional information: You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying. Additional information may be found on our Form ADV Part 2A, Item 5 Fees and Compensation and is available on keeleyteton.com.

Conversation Starters:

- Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments?
- If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?

What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

Standard of Conduct/Conflicts of Interest

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means: We manage multiple types of client accounts and funds, and this may create potential conflicts of interest. These may include conflicts in the allocation of investment opportunities and trades resulting from differing fee structures or interests by Keeley-Teton or its related persons in certain accounts. Keeley-Teton adopted allocation policies and procedures designed to address and minimize the effects of these conflicts. In addition, Keeley-Teton's Code of Ethics and post-trade monitoring for conflicts are intended to promote fairness to client accounts in the investment process.

In addition, current portfolio managers, relationship managers and/or professional staff of Keeley-Teton and its affiliated persons may receive a portion of Keeley-Teton's advisory fee on client accounts in accordance with incentive arrangements entered into from time-to-time. Additional information may be found on our Form ADV Part 2A, Item 5 Fees and Compensation and is available on keeleyteton.com/literature.
